

APPLICATION FOR ADMISSION COLLABORATIVE SPECIALIZATION IN BIOETHICS (CSB)

Application Process

Two applications need to be made. The first one goes to one (or more) of the following ten home graduate units with which we collaborate: Dalla Lana School of Public Health (DLSPH); Leslie Dan Faculty of Pharmacy (GDPS); Institute of Health Policy, Management and Evaluation (IHPME); Institute of Medical Science (IMS); Faculty of Law (LAW); Faculty of Nursing (NUR); Department of Philosophy (PHL); Department and Centre for the Study of Religion (RLG); Rehabilitation Sciences Institute (RSI); and Faculty of Social Work (SW). Note that “Bioethics” must be entered in Box 22 Collaborative Specialization on the School of Graduate Studies (SGS) application form so that your interest in the CSB is noted by SGS. You cannot be admitted into the CSB prior to admittance into a home unit, and admission into a home unit does not guarantee admission into the CSB.

The second application goes to the Collaborative Specialization in Bioethics (ideally at the same time as the application to the home unit) and consists of filling out the section below and sending a full application to the CSB. The CSB requires an up-to-date CV, transcripts, two letters of reference, and a one-page letter of intent which will explain why you’re interested in the CSB, outline the research project you’re planning to do and provide the reasons why you chose this particular research project, describe the research methodology that will be used to complete the project, explain what you think you’ll get from the CSB and what you’ll give to the CSB, and what you intend to do once the CSB is completed.

Applications should be sent to Rhonda Martin, Executive Assistant, Collaborative Specialization in Bioethics, Joint Centre for Bioethics, 155 College St., Suite 754, University of Toronto. If your application to a home unit is successful, please notify the Executive Assistant at jcb.ea@utoronto.ca as soon as possible so that your application can be considered by the CPB.

All CSB applications are assessed by the CSB Executive Committee (consisting of a representative from each collaborating unit); the Executive Assistant will notify you of the Committee’s decision concerning your application.
