Goals of the position
The volunteer will work on an academic project relevant to the Bioethics Department towards a manuscript suitable for academic publication or an academic poster.

Eligibility
- an interest in ethical issues in women's & infants' health/complex care/rehab/mental health/adult medicine etc.
- completed undergraduate degree with experience in philosophy, medicine, nursing, social work, law, religious studies, and/or and other clinical, humanities and social science disciplines
- keen interest to discover, learn, and advance the Science of Care at Sinai Health

About the position
Volunteers are matched with a supervisor and location (Mount Sinai Hospital and/or Hennick Bridgepoint Active Healthcare) depending on their interests and available projects.

Goals of the position
The volunteer will work on an academic project relevant to the Bioethics Department towards a manuscript suitable for academic publication or an academic poster.

Time commitment
A minimum of a half day a week during the academic year and a full day per week in the summer.

Application Deadlines
Winter Program: November 14, 2022
Summer Program: March 1, 2023
Fall Program: July 12, 2023

Contact:
Rebecca Greenberg, Senior Bioethicist
rebecca.greenberg@sinaihealth.ca

For more info on how to apply, click here.